Webinar Outline: Culturally Responsive SOGIE Data Collection for CBH/CBOs

Time and Date: Week of April 10-14; 2 hours

Webinar Description DRAFT

This webinar will overview the importance of Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity (SOGI) data collection. The training will provide strategies to develop quantitative questions that are trauma-informed and design culturally responsive qualitative interviews and listening sessions.

The training will provide strategies to develop SOGI questions that are trauma-informed and design data collection instruments that are culturally responsive that CBO's can utilize to develop tools to benefit community members

Learning Objectives: DRAFT

LO 3. Compose SOGI data collection based on regulations and community needs.

LO 4. Identify laws, policies, and best practices regarding SOGIE data collection.

LO 5. Practice asking and documenting SOGIE data using a culturally aware and responsive and trauma informed approach.

LO 9. Apply current best practices to help develop tools and improve services.

DRAFT Outline:

- Introductions and housekeeping
- Activity: ID what is wrong with this intake form?
- Topic 1: laws and Best Practices pertaining to SOGIE Data Collection (ALEX)
- Topic 2: How to use and analyze SOGI data (Leah)
    - SOGIE Data should be collected at intake (or registration) and annually as with other relevant health information
    - Identify and address disparities in service versus community population
    - Hiring and staff reflection of community
    - Improve tools and services, both internally and externally

        - More aware and trauma informed practices imbedded at intake and throughout the service experience
        - Make sure the information collected is for mental health and physical wellbeing, whole person care
    - Provide more culturally sensitive and relevant information to the public
    - Direct CCP guidance
        - Partner it with demographic data to allow for further analysis
            - Track disparities
            - Develop plans and tools to address disparities
        - Address SOGIE specific needs in the community and the individuals
- Topic 3: Culturally Responsive and Trauma-Informed Approaches to collecting SOGIE (Monica)
- Activity: role play collecting SOGIE Data
- Q&A
- Close